

Policy on Validation of Clinical Content

Continuing education programs approved by the American College of Nurse-Midwives (ACNM) will adhere to standards set forth by the ACNM Division of Education and by the American Midwifery Certification Board (AMCB) for content validation. All content specifically related to clinical practice should be evidence or research based. All scientific research presented, either in oral or written format, or used in support of presented information should conform to accepted standards of research.

Approved by CE section chair of the Division of Education: March 2010