Utah has not achieved the 6 midwives per 1,000 births recommended by the WHO.

Board-certified midwives include certified nurse-midwives and certified midwives, who are certified by the American Midwifery Certification Board. Board-certified midwives’ professional association is the American College of Nurse-Midwives.

Board-certified midwives practice authority is Utah Code Ann. § 58-31b-102, which was most recently revised in 2023. Board-certified midwives are regulated by the Department of Commerce – Division of Occupational and Professional Licensing.

Utah has one midwifery education program located at University of Utah.

Change in Midwife Attended Births Over Time

Policy Assets & Opportunities

Asset: Midwives are licensed for independent practice (Utah Code Ann. § 58-44a-102)

Asset: Midwives reimbursed at 100% the physician fee (See Fee Schedule)

Opportunity: Certified Midwives are eligible for licensure

Asset: Midwives have independent prescriptive authority (Utah Code Ann. § 58-44a-102)

Opportunity: Hospitals can appoint midwives to medical staff; but all patients must be under the care of a physician (Section R432-100-7)
Both certified nurse-midwives and certified midwives are board certified. Standards for education and certification in midwifery are identical for both credentials.

Board-certified midwives provide a full range of primary health care services in all stages of life, from the teenage years through menopause.

While midwives are well-known for attending births, 55.1% of board-certified midwives identify reproductive care and 38.5% identify primary care as responsibilities in their full-time positions.

Board-certified midwives provide general health check-ups, health screenings, and vaccinations.

Board-certified midwives provide gynecologic care including miscarriage and abortion treatment, and treatment of sexually transmitted infections.
