

Call For Health Information Technology Experts

Are you interested in Health Information Technology and the Electronic Health Record? Do you have expertise in the utilization and development of models that will affect midwifery practice? ACNM is looking for YOU! We want to create a pool of members with health IT perspectives or experience who can contribute in a variety of venues to an increasing focus and activity level on this issue to ensure that the needs of our members will be addressed as progress on health IT accelerates. Interested members should send a current CV to Monica Greenfield, Department of Professional Practice and Health Policy Coordinator, at mgreenfield@acnm.org, or by fax at 240-485-1818. Monica can be reached by telephone for more information at 240-485-1844.
